

PUBLIC HEARING ON BILL ENDS IN POLITICAL FIGHT

REPUBLICAN ORDERED OUT OF MEETING

Battle Starts Over Unemployment Insurance

By Curtis R. Hay
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 5.—(P)—Republican members of the house turned the first public hearing on the unemployment insurance bill today into a political battle and for two hours argued the constitutionality of the federal jobless compensation with H. H. Rausch, member of the Wisconsin industrial commission.

Rausch was the opening speaker at the first session of the judicial committee's hearing on the bill. He had scarcely begun a four-hour discussion of the measure when minority leaders opened the fight.

Before the smoke cleared, they had delved into Rausch's political and business background with questions which so aroused Committee Chairman Simeon, Rock Island Democrat, that he invited one of the attackers, Rep. Edward E. Laughlin, Freeport Republican, to leave the meeting.

Laughlin asked Rausch: "What are your politics? Are you a representative of the New Deal? Who invited you here?"

Before Rausch could answer, Simeon pointed his gavel at Laughlin and shouted: "It doesn't make any difference what party you belong to, you should at least act like a decent gentleman. I invited this man here because he knows something about the bill. If you don't like it, you can leave."

Amid applause from the crowded galleries, Laughlin sat down and Leroy Green, Rockford, minority leader in the house, took up the issue.

In answer to his questions, Rausch identified himself as head of the Milwaukee office of the industrial commission, a former member of the faculty of Marquette University and at one time an executive of a Milwaukee ice and coal firm.

"We have civil service in Wisconsin," he volunteered.

"So does Illinois, but we know how it works," Green replied.

Read Culler, Lewistown, Richard Lyons, Libertyville, and Elmer Schmackenberg, Chicago, all sought vainly to wrest an admission from Rausch that he considered the federal act unconstitutional.

Schnackenberg and Green assailed the statements by Rausch concerning the exemptions from the federal unemployment insurance tax offered employers by adoption of a state compensation plan.

"Isn't this the worst piece of coercive legislation ever passed by congress?" Schnackenberg asked.

"Not the worst," Rausch replied, "perhaps the most powerfully persuasive."

"Well, then, isn't the federal government seeking to do indirectly what it cannot constitutionally do directly?" Green demanded.

Rausch said the federal act was predicted on the theory that although congress did not have the police powers for unemployment insurance act, it was putting into effect "good social legislation" through its taxing powers. He said there was no exact precedent for such action but that the narcotics law was based on a similar proposition.

Lyons asked Rausch for his frank opinion of the bill now pending in the Illinois legislature. Explaining he favored the individual reserve system in use in Wisconsin, over the state pool fund provided in the Illinois bill, Rausch said "I don't like it."

Man Crawls Half Block To Retrieve His Lost Umbrella

Chicago, Nov. 5.—(P)—William Sanders, 52, carried an umbrella on a stroll down the south side lake front today. Returning home, he found he had forgotten the umbrella, and went back to get it. Once more on the beach, he tripped over a log and fractured his right leg. He crawled a half block to retrieve the umbrella. As a police ambulance took him to the County hospital, he clutched it to his breast. It wasn't raining.

IVAN BAUMAN WINS HUSKING CHAMPIONSHIP

Harvests 36,532 Bushels Of Corn In 80 Minutes

El Paso, Ill., Nov. 5.—(P)—Ivan Bauman, carrying the colors of Woodford county, shocked his way to the Illinois corn husking championship here today with a harvest of 36,532 bushels.

William Rose of Henry county was second with a score of 24,324 bushels, and Simon Olman, El Paso, the defending champion, placed third, scoring 23,529.

An estimated crowd of 20,000 saw the 12 contestants plunge into the muddy field on the George Shuman farm a short distance south of here. Then for 80 minutes they watched the corn fly under the hands of the "cream" of the state's shuckers.

Bauman was a "dark horse" when the contest started. He was not among the 10 champion huskers selected earlier in the season, but he entered to represent the county in which the contest was held.

Bauman's score was under the accepted world record of 36.9 bushels set by Carl Seiler of Knox county, Illinois, in the 1932 national contest. Scores of other contestants were kept down by the condition of the field.

A weekend of rain had made the ground muddy and toughened the stalks of standing corn.

Scores of the other contestants in the order they finished follow: Hartwick Olson, Knox county, 33,242; George Christman, Douglas county, 32,624; Donely Martin, La Salle county, 32,317; Elmer Linden, Bureau county, 31,483; Roy Brown, Mercer county, 31,463; Joe Schuler, Marshall county, 31,242; Lee Schuler, McLean county, 30,336; Arnold Seidenbach, Stark county, 30,4; and H. Wainwright, Warren county, 28,282.

Bauman, whose record was only fractionally under the world's high score in spite of adverse conditions, will represent Illinois in the national contest at Attica, Ind., Friday.

Procedure in the contest was to toss the husked ears into wagons hauled along the rows by tractors. At the conclusion of the race, judges weighed the corn and assessed penalties for ears missed and for husks left attached to cleaned corn.

Conduct Of Two Detectives Will Be Investigated

Man Claims He Told Them
Stolen Goods Were In Garage

Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—(P)—Chief of Police Jacob Laubenthaler opened an investigation today into the conduct of two acting detectives who allegedly failed to enter the lair of the dynamite terrorist several days before it was wrecked in a blast fatal to him and two other persons.

The inquiry was prompted by the story of George Griz, who said that on Oct. 26 he led the detectives to the garage high (idiz) Ruthowski used as headquarters and told them he believed it housed stolen goods.

Ruthowski and his baby-faced pal, Paul (Shrimp) Chevanek, were killed Sunday in an accidental explosion that also took the life of nine-year-old Patricia Mlynarek. The police laid the bombing of five buildings here last week to Ruthowski and Chevanek.

Joseph Kashirsk and Fred Starnes were the detectives named by Griz. Inspector John Bausch said both made "absolute denials" that he had told them the garage contained stolen property of a kind permitting search without a warrant.

Griz, whose son, Elmer, was friendly with the bombers and now is accused of automobile theft, said his wife overheard the youths talking about stolen gasoline and oil. Griz said he did not know dynamite was there.

CHURCH LAWS IN MEXICO TO BE ENFORCED

Government Refuses Church Right To Teach

Mexico City, Nov. 5.—(P)—Laws regulating religious worship and implementing socialistic education in Mexico will be strictly enforced, the government announced today in replying to the recent appeal by Roman Catholic bishops for modification.

In the name of President Lazaro Cardenas, Secretary of the Interior Silvano Barba Gonzalez addressed an open letter to Catholics, informing them that the government considered unjustified their arguments for restoration of the right of the church to hold property and impart religious education.

Gonzalez said the church would not be allowed to teach religious instruction, and the socialistic education, which teaches no religion, would be enforced, but he asserted parents would not be prevented from giving religious instruction to their children.

Gonzalez said complete religious freedom, which the Catholics pointed out was allowed in some countries, was impossible in Mexico.

The secretary declared it was absurd for Mexican Catholics to appeal for freedom of conscience "when the Roman Catholic clergy has condemned such freedom as opposed its fundamental dogma, applying this criterion in its cruellest forms by the inquisition."

Emilio Portes Gil, former president of Mexico and now secretary of foreign relations, attempted to justify, in a book, the government's actions against the Roman Catholic church on charges that the church has done only moral and economic harm to the people of Mexico for the past 400 years.

Portes Gil said the government regarded as an urgent duty the necessity to "repress and if possible to suppress altogether the temporal activities of the clergy of Mexico."

ITALIAN DRIVE ON MAKALE IS HALTED BY RAIN

"Breathing Spell" Is Relished By High Command

By Andree Berding
Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press.

At the front with the Italian army, Nov. 5.—A four-pointed drive by more than 12,000 Italian soldiers upon the strategic Ethiopian city of Makale was halted today by heavy rains.

A "breathing spell" of two days, however, was relished by the fascist high command. It is easier to keep the carefully-mapped plan of advance intact.

The bivouac in the mud of Northern Ethiopia will allow completion of truck roads to catch up with the armies, giving a free flow of supplies. Officers, encountering little resistance except from nature, expressed confidence the fascist banner would wave over Makale by Friday, signaling success in another major step in the campaign of occupation.

No fight is expected at the Gates of Makale, a caravan center dominating the head of the Nile, said the head of the expedition, Alcaide of Makale, had signified a wish to submit through a large white flag hoisted over his home. The scouting planes also reported white sheets were waved by inhabitants and that the town apparently had been evacuated by Ethiopian troops.

If Italian plans go well, an Ethiopian will lead the Fascists into the coveted city. Degiac Guga's native troops, on the extreme left, are well in advance and expected to move into Makale by Thursday—a day in the advance of the main columns. (Degiac Guga, a son-in-law of the comedian ends Nov. 27.

City of Miami Pleads For Funds to Pay Bills of Its Post-Storm Convalescence

Miami, Fla., Nov. 5.—(P)—The city of Miami pleaded for money—lots of it, and quickly—today to pay the bills of its post-storm convalescence.

After a survey showed five dead, 137 injured and possibly $3,000,000 property, crop and shrubbery damage in Dade county alone from the freak storm which struck yesterday, Mayor A. D. H. Fossey asked aid from state and federal officials.

The mayor said he did not know where the city, its budget already sadly unbalanced, would get $150,000 he estimated was needed to finance emergency repairs on broken water mains, destroyed docks, damaged streets and the like.

City officials conferred during the day with J. P. Newell, secretary to Governor Dave Sholtz; Adjutant General Vivian Collins; State Health Officer Henry Hansen; FERA Administrator Conrad Van Hyning, and Congressman Mark Wilcox.

State officials left for a survey of the damage while Representative Wilcox left for Washington in the appeal for federal funds.

Red Cross officials said $50,000 would be available immediately for emergency relief, and W. Randal Becker, chairman of the Dade disaster relief finance committee, said a drive would be launched to care for supplementary relief patients.

While crews of hastily engaged workmen—their hiring helped relieve the city's unemployment problem—went to work cleaning up the wreckage, coast guardsmen announced three boys for whom fear had been expressed, had reached safety after their boat foundered.

They were Don Putnam, 19; Bob Ford, 19; and Arthur Drake, 20. Police also listed 13 persons reported to them as missing, but they said they believed a majority of them safe and unlocated by members of their families because of disrupted communications.

Casper Hefty, Jr., and Demolise Willode, missing all night, were rescued today by a crew from Commodore William K. Vanderbilt's yacht Alva, after their boat was wrecked on a small island.

A coast guard plane piloted by Lieut. W. L. Clemmer rescued three other men whose fishing boat was driven aground on Soldier Key.

The trio clung to roots and trees for a 24-hour sleepless vigil amid swirling winds and pounding seas before help came.

Two coast guard cutters stood by the helpless Bull liner Elizabeth, 324-foot freighter of 3,482 tons with a normal crew of 32, which was driven aground about 300 yards off Miami Beach.

Ashore, meanwhile, Miami's began refurbishing for their expected biggest and best winter season with the vanguard of tourists which experienced the storm interested spectators.

The Jacksonville weather bureau's latest storm warning placed the center of the hurricane approximately 170 miles west northwest of Key West, apparently receding.

NEW DEAL REPUDIATED BY NEW YORK VOTERS; G. O. P. WINS ASSEMBLY

PHILADELPHIA VOTERS ELECT G. O. P. MAYOR

S. Davis Wilson Is Chosen By 30,000 Majority

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—(P)—In Philadelphia's bitterest mayoral election in decades, S. Davis Wilson, Republican, ran ahead of his Democratic rival, John B. Kelly, by more than 30,000 votes, with approximately half of the city's 1,285 election districts reported.

Fighting off the most serious Democratic threat since a Democrat last was elected mayor half a century ago, Wilson polled 197,160 votes in 650 election districts compared to 160,733 for Kelly.

On the strength of this majority, the Republican candidate claimed victory, and the Philadelphia Inquirer, staunch supporter of Wilson and the entire Republican ticket, announced triumph for the mayoral nominee and all his running mates.

Personalities and harsh words have been the order of the campaign since Wilson and Kelly were nominated at the primaries in September.

Wilson formerly was a Democrat and Kelly a Republican, although inactive. Only a year ago, Wilson was active in support of George H. Earle, the Democrat who succeeded Clifford Pinchot as governor. He was named city controller on a Democratic-town meeting party ticket two years ago.

The Republican candidate did not even vote in the election. Under election laws, he would have had to swear he voted for a majority of Republican candidates last year in order to register Republican.

Washington, Nov. 5.—(P)—Boosting to nine the number of states which have received their last direct relief grants, Harry L. Hopkins, today edged Gifford Pinchot, his goal of doleless system of work relief.

Maryland, Delaware and South Dakota were served notice today that they "have been given their last allotments of federal funds by the FERA."

Six other states, Indiana, Alabama, Wyoming, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Nevada, had been off the dole since October 1.

Hopkins, asserted last week that 20 states would be out of direct relief by November 15, and the remainder in the following two weeks.

In another work relief quarter, new difficulties arose in the path of PWA allotments for highway construction. The bureau of public roads informed PWA that 15 projects, for which $1,764,588 had been allotted, were on federal highway systems and therefore at least temporarily held up by action of Comptroller General J. R. McCarr. In addition, parts of $3,482,079 were found to be parts of federal routes.

Hopkins' action in cutting off the three additional states followed release by McCarr of an additional $71,084,903 worth of WPA projects in 27 states. At the same time, McCarr released another $6,391,688 in WPA allotments, making the total available for immediate expenditure $972,529,544, compared with $1,069,161,438 allotted to WPA by President Roosevelt.

Neither of the three states has attained its jobs quota, latest figures showing the program is still more than 2,000 short of its 3,500,000 goal on December 1.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—(P)—Medical testimony that it was unlikely anyone could view a day old infant, then identify the child two months later, today further confused the court battle of two reputed mothers for custody of 11-week-old Ernest Ludwig Muench.

While the month-old wrangle continued before a commissioner of the St. Louis Court of Appeals, Ernest Ludwig, dimpled 12-pound "bouncing baby boy" enjoyed the comforts of St. Louis Children's hospital as a ward of the court.

Today Dr. Chester H. Denny, who delivered a baby Aug. 17 to Anna Ware, young unwed domestic, testified he doubted a baby could be identified two or three months later.

Questioned specifically, he said he did not believe it was possible for Miss Ware to now definitely know the child that was taken from her at birth.

Miss Ware, who asserts Ernest Ludwig was born to her, then given into custody of Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, former society matron, asserted in court last Wednesday, upon viewing the child for the second time, that the baby actually was her own.

Mrs. Muench, shortly after the birth of Miss Ware's baby, announced she had become a mother.

Dr. Denny's testimony continued the defense of Mrs. Muench, in reply to a writ of habeas corpus action brought by Miss Ware.

Socialists Win In Bridgeport

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 5.—(P)—Jasper McLevy, two-tisted, hard working Socialist mayor, was returned to office for his second term today by the voters of this industrial city of some 140,000.

His plurality was estimated unofficially at more than 14,000. Two years ago his plurality was 6,070. Ten times McLevy campaigned unsuccessfully for the office which he finally won on his 11th attempt in 1933.

The electorate today also expressed its confidence in the administration by sending Socialists to every one of the 16 seats on the board of aldermen.

Beekeeper Says Insects Do Not Play Favorites

St. Paul, Nov. 5.—(P)—L. A. Stickney, beekeeper of Minnesota City who says he has been stung 40 to 50 times a day, shattered the notion today you can strike up a safe familiarity with bees.

Stickney, 58 of his 87 years in the bee business, told the Minnesota Beekeepers Association that bees play no favorites.

"They don't know me despite the fact that I have been around them almost every hour of the day," he said. "They only know that they are being molested. I have been stung so often that my whole system becomes nervous and shaky."

9 STATES HAVE RECEIVED LAST RELIEF GRANTS

Clarence Darrow In Plea Declares World Too Cruel

Makes Move For Release Of Youth Serving Time For Murder

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 5.—(P)—Clarence Darrow, veteran lawyer, came out of retirement today to charge that "the world is too damned cruel" as he pleaded for the release of Lyle Messner, 22, Cedar Rapids, Ia., youth who has served eight years of a life sentence for murder.

"I couldn't sleep nights if I didn't try to do something for that boy," Darrow, who defended the Masseys at Honolulu and Leeb and Leopold at Chicago, said when he asked Gov. Clyde Herring for commutation of the youth's sentence.

The governor told Darrow he would instruct the board of parole to make an investigation and submit a report.

Messner was sentenced to life imprisonment in Fort Madison prison in 1927 for the murder of Kathleen Forrest, 6, during an attempted assault.

In his plea for clemency, Darrow declared: "That boy was only 14 years old. He had no idea of killing anybody. You know as I do that a boy of that age is liable to do most anything."

"I may not know what's right and what's wrong, but I can't understand why people take a few 14 years old and send him to prison for life."

"In most states it couldn't happen. He would have come under the protection of the juvenile court."

Darrow explained he entered the case after the youth's mother, Mrs. W. C. Messner, wife of a Cedar Rapids laborer, appealed to him for help.

82 SEATS ARE CAPTURED BY REPUBLICANS

Many Cities In State Also Elect G. O. P. Mayors

By The Associated Press
Decisively leading in New York's state elections, Republican leaders quickly filed a claim last night that the Empire state had repudiated the New Deal.

Ousting at least eight Democratic incumbents, they apparently regained control of the state assembly, by a margin estimated at five to six seats. The Democrats had a majority of four in the last assembly. A Republican trend was apparent too in the state's mayoralty elections.

Complete returns from the 150 districts showed Republicans recaptured control of the larger house of New York's legislature with a total of 82 seats, a working majority of six, as against the Democrats 68.

The GOP, which called for an assembly victory as a repudiation of the New Deal, ousted Democrats from three seats in Erie county, three in Monroe, one in Greene and one in Rensselaer, in upstate New York, and one in the sixth district of Kings.

New York's senate, now Democratic, does not elect until next year. Melvin C. Eaton, Republican state chairman hailed the "tremendous victory from the New Deal." Irving M. Ives, Republican assembly leader, declared the result outright repudiation of the Roosevelt administration.

Such claims, however, were quickly contested by Postmaster General Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee and of the New York Democratic state committee.

The result, he said, "ought to be a sufficient answer to the question of the continued popularity of Franklin D. Roosevelt." He asserted that Republican yerrymandering had made it impossible for the Democrats to elect a majority of the assembly except in a landslide election.

Farley saw his own district go Republican, as did President Roosevelt, so far as the assembly elections were concerned. In Hyde Park, however, a Democratic superior was elected for the first time in years.

Meanwhile, returns were coming in slowly from state legislature elections in New Jersey. They showed the usual Democratic sweep in Hudson county, one of the party's strongholds.

Topping a long list of mayoralty elections, Philadelphia produced a growing lead for the Republican candidate, S. Davis Wilson, over his Democratic opponent John B. Kelly.

In Kentucky, more than a million votes were cast in a heated gubernatorial election which saw a split in the ranks of Democratic leaders. The ballots were locked up until today, when counting will begin.

The traditionally Republican stronghold of Philadelphia last night returned an increasing lead for its G. O. P. mayoralty candidate, headlining city elections that produced numerous surprises.

In the Quaker city, S. Davis Wilson was nursing a 23,000 lead over George B. Kelly, with about one fourth the city's ballots tabulated.

Returns from many New York state cities showed majority contests going generally with the Republican trend which apparently gave the G. O. P. control of the state assembly.

Elmira passed into Republican hands. By slim margins, Republicans were elected to head the city governments of Binghamton and Dunkirk. They won too in Salamanca, Ithaca, Norwich, Batavia, Lockport, Geneva, Canandaigua, Middletown, Newburgh, Oswego, Oneida, Lackawanna and Hornell, all in New York.

In Lockport, N. Y., the voters rejected a proposal that the city construct a municipal power plant. Mayor Henry F. Thurston, Democrat, who proposed the project, was defeated by Allen W. Vandemere, Republican.

Democratic mayoralty victories were reported from Little Falls and Utica, N. Y. A Republican lost in Fulton to a Socialist-Democrat. The Democrats were victorious, too, in Troy and Auburn.

Municipal voting showed a Republican tendency in Ohio. Of 42 cities reported in the early returns, 23 elected Republican mayors, the Democrats 16 and the Independents four. Harold W. Burton, Independent Republican, defeated Ray T. Miller, Democrat in Cleveland.

Connecticut Socialists elected a mayor in Bridgeport, while Democrats returned to power in Hartford and New Haven.

PLACED ON PROBATION
Braidwood, Ill., Nov. 5.—(P)—Charles Voboril 32, who was placed on probation last summer and fined $300 for writing too numerous letters to Merry Falmey, Chicago patent medicine heiress, was dead today the victim of a hit-and-run driver. His body was found on a highway near Braidwood, his home.

Now It's Spelling

Spelling has come to the fore in the schools of Morgan county for the month of November. Thirteen school contests are planned, and to the winner of each Supt. Victor Sheppard will award a book as a prize. Early in December these winners will compete for the county championship, and the champion will go to Springfield for the state contest.

The annual spelling contests are most beneficial to students. They need spelling through life, and one of the best means of training is competition in an old-fashioned "spell-down." These contests were once voluntary affairs organized within the schools on Friday afternoons. They attracted wide attention and caused real rivalry. And there were spellers in those days.

The modern idea of inter-school and even county and state contests widens the scope of training and gathers into the class of good spellers a larger number of young people.

A writer says that a person can concentrate on a beautiful painting for about five minutes. Good music can hold the attention for half an hour. Drama will keep the interest for two and a half hours, with intermission for "smoking in the outer lobby." But literature leads off with lifetime interest for those who love books. Speaking of books one writer remarked many years ago, "Every day I am charmed over the nation from Halloween pranks. Perhaps the most prominent incident in this part of the country was the shooting of a youth at LaTour, Mo., when a group visited school property and started playing pranks. Supt. Charles F. McClure and Principal Hey were on guard.

Wrecks of Halloween

Six deaths are said to have resulted over the nation from Halloween pranks. Perhaps the most prominent incident in this part of the country was the shooting of a youth at LaTour, Mo., when a group visited school property and started playing pranks. Supt. Charles F. McClure and Principal Hey were on guard.

The superintendent fired in the air to frighten the boys, and then one of them was shot. The superintendent claimed he did not mean to shoot the lad, but the gun was accidentally discharged when the boy ran against it. The incident has attracted wide attention.

The superintendent is facing a charge of manslaughter. He and the principal have already lost their jobs thru edict of the school board. Both men had a fair start in the teaching profession as a promising future, but all is lost now. Their lives are wrecked. A boy who might also have enjoyed long life and success is dead.

All this came about because young people forgot to control themselves during a Halloween expedition. Fearing the superintendent and principal were on guard to protect school property. Perhaps they should not have been armed, but they doubtless feared the youths would not listen to reason.

Halloween is an occasion for innocent fun, and it can be made a most happy festival. But too many have taken advantage of it to show disrespect for law and the rights and property of others. The results are most unfortunate. The remedy is easy. Let young people have a good time on Halloween, but let them understand that the laws of the land are not suspended for that particular night.

The Food Problem

The food consumption of the average American dropped 20 pounds annually during the depression years. But in 1934 and 1935 he ate 1,414 pounds of food annually, but from 1930 to 1933 he ate only 1,454 pounds.

According to government figures meat consumption has dropped 18 percent during the past year. For the first eight months of 1935 the consumption was 6,500,000,000 pounds, while for the same period last year it was 7,700,000,000, these figures are estimates by the American Meat Packers' Institute.

This means that the average consumption of meat has dropped nearly ten pounds per citizen in a year. Potato consumption has been decreasing for several years. Poultry and fish hold up consistently. Many vegetables have gained in popularity, even during the depression years. These include asparagus, cauliflower, lettuce, etc.

The drop in meat consumption is believed due to the high prices. Whatever may be said for incomes in the higher brackets, the buying power of the average worker has not been materially increased. The real meat-eaters of the country have been hard put to it to keep the family larder supplied with their favorite food.

An increase in meat production next year, with a corresponding decrease in prices, is expected to bring an increase in consumption. People do not like to be without meat, which is perhaps the most important energy-producing food. The problem of buying sufficient food is ever present in the average American family. As incomes rise the problem becomes less acute. When the cash is available for food purchases the matter of price proves less embarrassing.

The Brook Boulevard

Dr. J. R. Harker called at the Journal and Courier office yesterday and expressed his hearty approval of our opposition to selling the land in the Mauvalsterre Lake area. We also received criticism of our stand from a member of the city council. We feel that this park area was acquired for the use of the people and that it should be kept free to them in perpetuity. As Dr. Harker commented in discussing the matter, "We have little enough park land as it is."

Dr. Harker called attention to the Brook boulevard as a possible project that might well be completed at this time, or at least put in shape so the people could drive over it. He suggested that along the boulevard there are two or three small plots of ground, an acre or so in extent, which the course of the brook renders unfit for cultivation. These might be converted into small neighborhood playgrounds.

The city owns a wide right-of-way the entire length of the brook, acquired when the brook was dredged. The surplus land was used to deposit the dirt from the deepened brook, and it was the intention at the time to later convert it into a boulevard. While the paving of this route would at this time be too much of an expense, it might be graded and opened as a WPA project, and would thus become available as a drive.

The project to complete Victory Drive around the lake is noted with satisfaction. The city does not have enough in which people may drive for pleasure. If this drive can be completed around the lakes, it will prove a most attractive addition to a park route system to furnish motor recreation for our citizens.

And Japan Goes On

While the eyes of the world are focused on Africa, the Japanese continue to make their customary amount of hay in China. The latest dispatch has it that a movement to detach a vast section of north China from the rule of Chiang Kai-shek is under way; if successful, an "independent" state along the lines of Manchoukuo would be set up on a basis of complete friendship and cooperation with Japan.

Mussolini strikes for a comparatively small slice of African jungle and rugged mountains and sets all Europe by the ears. The Japanese quietly carve out a tremendous empire in the Orient—and nobody seems to worry about it.

It seems obvious that the extent of Japan's takings will be limited only by Tokio's idea of what Japan needs. The dismembering of China appears to be going forward at a rate that must make Mussolini green with envy.

Beauty Enough

The United States and Canada ought to forward some kind of joint vote of thanks to the authorities of the city of Vancouver, British Columbia.

Some promoter appeared before the Vancouver city council recently with a fine stunt to advertise the city and province. He wanted to stage a great bathing beauty contest. The lovely faces and what-not of the contestants would spread the fame of Vancouver far and wide, attract immigrants, and promote general well-being, he argued.

And the Vancouver city fathers

turned him down!

City authorities who have the good taste and the good sense to consider that kind of chance at free publicity are all too rare these days. More power to Vancouver, which does not need a bevy of girls in bathing suits to announce its civic attractions!

New Dealers Steal Center of Power Confab Stage . . . Utilities Are Peeved at Set-up, but What Can They Do About It? . . . Seems as if All Radical Plans Have Been Tried Before . . . Trades Are Mapped by Britain.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington
Correspondent

Washington.—Emotions will be decidedly mixed when the electric power magnates and experts gather for the World Power Conference here next September.

That's the same conference to which Owen D. Young invited all other nations five years ago when it was held in Berlin. Or rather, it is and it isn't. In those days Samuel Insull was sufficiently powerful to try to censor a speech made at the conference by American Ambassador Sackett.

As the Roosevelt administration antagonized the "power trust" more and more, and events shaped toward a death struggle between the two forces, the utilities grew colder and colder on the idea of having a World Power Conference in Washington in the middle of the election campaign.

And the American committee of the conference (a continuing body), made up of utility men, just folded up and was waiting to have any.

Then the administration sneaked through congress a resolution authorizing $100,000 for holding the conference and Huey Long filibustered the appropriation to death and the administration went right on planning for the conference.

But this conference, instead of being operated by the utilities themselves, will be largely dominated by officials and experts of TVA, Rural Electrification Administration, National Power Policy Committee, SEC—which is to regulate holding companies—Federal Power Commission, and other groups.

New Dealers Steal Show

Instead of mere dry discussions of technical problems, this conference will discuss controversial economic phases of power, such as rates and public ownership.

Planners of the conference are so radical that they're even going to invite representatives of labor and the consumer to sit in on the show. What makes the utilities maddest is that they can't quite see how to avoid invitations to sit on committees and otherwise participate in what they fear will be a big parade of the fruits of the New Deal power policies.

Disturbed foreign guests will have to be taken around to TVA and Boulder Dam, as well as to private plants. Plans call for free discussion and presentation of both sides of all issues, but key speeches will be made by government officials and most power magnates can't see how the conference can be anything less than a big boost for the New Deal and a headache for themselves.

Seems as if Nothing's New

One of the easiest things to do, if you have the time, is to find early historical parallels for almost any modern-day radical proposal that comes along.

Take the export bounty for surplus farm crops, which some Republicans are considering as an alternative for the present AAA program.

This country began that sort of thing at a tender age in 1789. The first tariff bill provided a duty of 6 cents a bushel on salt, to encourage a domestic industry.

That was very tough on New England, which was doing a big business shipping salt fish. So what they did, by way of compensation, was to give the codfish industry an export bounty which amounted to from $100 to $250 a year for each fish boat. That sort of thing went on right up to the Civil war.

Britain Plans Her Trades

Latest sizeup of European situation, based on confidential reports here:

British policy now based primarily on expectation of conflict sooner or later with Hitler. British statesmen finally have decided there's no long-run nourishment in supporting Germany against Russia inasmuch—as assuming Russia lost—as that would only be building up an enemy with whom England would have to clash sooner or later.

Hitler isn't ready to fight yet and meanwhile Mussolini must be licked or taken into camp lest he subsequently be in a position to ally with Germany against Britain.

Mussolini, aware of all this, has in effect demanded Egypt as his price. This price is far too heavy for England, as it involves destruction of the British position along the route to India.

Present efforts are to hammer down Mussolini's price, by threats and league pressure. About all England has been willing to promise to date is a minor interest in Ethiopia which won't interfere with the aforesaid position.

England is prepared for war if Italy won't cave in on a "reasonable" basis. (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

Layden Worries Over Irish Injuries As Northwestern Prepares Warm Reception

Chicago—(P)—While Elmer Layden, whose Notre Dame football miracle makers figure to go marching on toward an undefeated season at the expense of Northwestern Saturday, worries and worries, Coach Lynn Waldorf of the Wildcats is in a frame of mind verging on optimism.

Layden has plenty of honest-to-goodness worries. Andy Pliny, torch-bearer in Notre Dame's flaming comeback against Ohio State Saturday, will not be present against Northwestern and may not play in another game for the Irish. Fred Carideo, Layden's number one fullback, and Dick Pfeiffer, the only experienced left tackle on the squad, also will be missing because of leg injuries.

Layden fears his squad may dwell too much upon what happened last week and not enough on the business at hand. They may not take the improving Wildcats seriously enough to avoid an upset beating. But Notre Dame will be a full-sized favorite just the same.

Pfeiffer's injury came as a shock to Layden, for the tackle stayed in against the Buckeyes even after suffering the injury.

Waldorf is not predicting a victory for Northwestern, but he sees a chance for an upset.

"I feel that we have a better chance against Notre Dame than our record indicates," he said. "Even if we have played some good football, Notre Dame has a great team—everyone knows that—but Northwestern has always played well against Notre Dame and our boys will be in there with everything they have Saturday."

With few exceptions, the reserves did the work yesterday while the varsity men rested. One of the exceptions was Ohio State. The Buckeyes, grim and silent, worked until after dark. Chicago and Wisconsin, idle last week, speeded up drills for their assignments with Ohio State and Purdue, respectively, with long offensive seasons. Michigan, fearing Illinois' tricky offense in spite of the Illinois recent reversal of form, worked on defense in the rain.

South Bend, Ind.—(P)—"Handy Andy" Pliny, number one hero of Notre Dame's comeback triumph over Ohio State, expected to learn today whether he would play any more football for the " Fighting Irish."

Dr. J. E. McMeel, team physician, was to make a complete examination of Pliny's right leg, severely injured late in Saturday's struggle. An earlier examination revealed torn ligaments. Whether the injury can be treated successfully enough to bring Pliny back for the Army or Southern California games, Dr. McMeel expected to determine today.

Pliny is a senior and the Ohio State triumph may have been his last, unless Notre Dame earns, receives and accepts a bid to the Rose Bowl.

TO QUINCY MEETING

Fred R. Bailey went to Quincy yesterday to attend a district gathering of funeral directors.

BYRD'S LIEUTENANT, Dr. Poulter, will lecture and show moving pictures of Antarctica tonight at 8:15 AT MACMURRAY COLLEGE

SAVE FOOTBALL. Help us stop drinking at the games.

That's the plea sent out by Athletic Director George Huff of the University of Illinois with each set of tickets mailed for games to be played at the Illinois stadium this fall.

"I am asking your assistance in creating a sentiment that will support us in our efforts to eliminate drinking and the presence of drunken persons at our games."

"It is the intention of the University of Illinois to refuse admission to patrons who are under the influence of liquor and to evict from the stands those who are making nuisances of themselves."

"Back us up. Encourage our officers in their task. Let football drunkards know that they are decidedly unpopular with their neighbors on the stands."

That is part of Huff's message to persons who are going to attend games at the state university. It may not be long until baseball clubs in the majors will be forced to put on the same sort of campaign.

Illinois College and Jacksonville High must be eating the same kind of food. Both teams started slowly, and just now are getting into form that the coaches have been trying to reach all year.

The Blueboys couldn't open up against Eastern very much. Lloyd Dieber, one of the North Central assistant coaches, was in the stands getting information for the Cardinals to use against the Blueboys this Saturday when Illinois goes to Naperville for a game.

Mose Wicks, former Jacksonville high grider now at Western, also was trying to get some dope for Coach Hansen at Western, and we understand there were a few more scouts present.

Anyway, it was a fine homecoming, although a lot of folks thought Eastern was a push-over. The dove showed Western of Macomb a 5-3 victory over Parsons, a 3-0 winner over Eastern, and Parsons a 12-0 winner over Illinois.

Rushville, one of the surprise teams of the Spoon River conference, is the next stumbling block in front of the Beardstown team which last Friday stopped Havana's Bennie Sheridan and went into undisputed leadership of the conference.

Bob Wixon's boys took three on the chin in the conference at the start of the year, and then came back to win three in a row, their latest victory dropping Virginia's Redheads from the conference pinnacle. Word from Virginia is that the Redheads had one of those days when nothing went right.

Penn State has a one-play grider in Joe Biellik. . . Joe is kept on the bench until a field goal is needed and, after either making or missing the kick, returns to spend the rest of the day on the sidelines. . . Billy Evans, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, is taking a month's vacation in

Blueboys Get Look At Cardinal Stunts

Other Teams Get Back To Work As Rain Leaves Cold In City

Illinois College took a look at North Central's wide sweeping runs, and long forward passes as football teams from the city went back in the cold to get their drills for impending games. At Jacksonville high school alumni turned out to help Coach Frank Walker get his Cardinals ready for their game at Virginia on Armistice day.

Coach Ray Nusspickel, who saw the North Central Cardinals in action this year, told the boys that they were going to have plenty of trouble this week. North Central has a couple of 200 pound tackles, a couple husky guards, and a pair of ends that were plenty hard to handle.

In view of these things, Coach Nusspickel put his varsity squad on defense to show them how North Central operates, particularly their deceptive spin plays from a short punt formation, and their long end runs, and their long forward passes.

Particularly gratifying to Coach Ray Nusspickel was the fact that all of his boys are in uniform this week, and that unless all indications fail, they will be ready for their battle with the Cardinals. Lorenz, end, who has been out of commission for several weeks, got into the scrimmage for a short while yesterday.

Scrimmages also were the order of the day as I. S. D. and Bout where coaches called out their candidates for the big battle here next Armistice day.

Plans have been completed for a game between the Jacksonville high alumni and varsity team this Thursday afternoon, beginning at four o'clock.

SAFETY PROGRAM OF AAA HAS RESULTED IN SCHOOL PATROLS

Greater safety on Jacksonville's streets will result from the success of the membership campaign now being staged by the Jacksonville Automobile Club, according to T. M. Tomlinson, manager of the club, who took initial steps in 1928 toward establishing the A.A.A. in this city.

With a greater number of members we can do more safety work says Mr. Tomlinson, who points to the safety patrols in Jacksonville public and parochial schools as one of the features of the A.A.A. safety work.

Together with the late William Sullivan, Mr. Tomlinson led the campaign which gave Jacksonville an office of the American Automobile Association. Mr. Sullivan, long interested in the work of the A.A.A. and himself a member direct with national headquarters, sought the co-operation of Mr. Tomlinson who recognized the advantages to Jacksonville of such an organization and who has worked untiringly in its behalf ever since.

Transients who have the idea that Washington can offer special help should be encouraged to stay at home, where they can obtain the same aid with less risk and more speedily. ## Quakes Shake New York's Belief in Its Safety

New York's towering skyscrapers survived unscathed two earthquake shocks that rocked the eastern seaboard, but the vibrations left their marks on lesser buildings and routed thousands from their beds. The power of the quake is shown in the position of the porch of the Newark, N. J., house at left—the structure was shifted a foot to jam it against the adjoining property. At right, huddled on a stoop are tenants of a Brooklyn flat building. They stayed out of doors rather than take a chance that new tremors would crash the walls and ceilings around them.

ITALIAN DRIVE ON MAKALE IS HALTED BY RAIN

Emperor Haile Selassie, early in the campaign deserted to the Italians. He is an important chieftain in northern Ethiopia.

Fascist strategy is to allow natives to enter towns first in order to win over the sympathy of the inhabitants to the invaders. Another reason for the halt was that native troops of the central column had to penetrate "much more difficult territory" than the right and left wings. This force is led by Gen. Alessandro Pirzio-Biroli.

On the left there is General Ruggero Santin's column, which has occupied Haulein, while the "mystery brigade" of Danakil warriors led by General Mariotti are on the right and have taken eastern Danakilla.

A fourth column is "mopping up" in the Adiba district between the Mareb and Takaze rivers. The territory is extremely hot and only about 1,500 feet above sea level.

In addition to these four columns are the troops of Degiac Gussa. Italian reports said the natives are welcoming the invaders.

Airplanes put aside deadly bombs to drop supplies to advance scouting patrols. These advance parties were in a region almost at the gates of Makale.

The plan for the advance calls for three columns to meet at Agula, about 18 miles from the goal. Heights commanding the Makale plain have been occupied, and one battery of heavy artillery is well forward on the front. Others are being rushed up.

Olander said the labor bloc was opposed to the individual reserve plan of insurance and in his brief speech gave complete endorsement to the bills now before the assembly.

Hunter read a telegram of endorsement of the principles of unemployment insurance, sent by the council of social workers.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Agnes Brennan. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Mary Malton missionary society of the Centenary church met yesterday afternoon at the church in their regular October meeting. Mrs. Will Naylor had charge of the devotion, and Miss Zoe Tyrell reviewed a chapter of the study book.

Light refreshments were served following the program.

Mrs. Skaags Entertains For Daughter

Mrs. Ernest Skaags of 754 East College avenue entertained at her home Tuesday afternoon from the hours of four to six in honor of the fourth birthday of her daughter Marilyn Anne. Mrs. Skaags was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Edith Ruyke. The rainbow color scheme was carried out.

Guests were Mary Jean Bailey, Janet and Betty Jean Townsley, Elizabeth Neils, Phyllis Stone, Janice Mason, Jean Cooper, and Aileen Roegge.

The surviving children are Mrs. Anna Gray, Fred J. Mollenbrok, and Albert A. Mollenbrok of Jacksonville and Mrs. Lena Ryan of Waverly. There is one sister, Mrs. Charlotte Brune, and eight grandchildren.

The remains were prepared for burial at the O'Donnell & Reavy Funeral Parlor and were returned to his home, 827 West Lafayette avenue yesterday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 8:30 at the Church of Our Saviour.

FALL FATAL

New Canaan, Conn., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Walter H. Irvine, 32, a native of Rockford, Ill., and graduate of Dartmouth college, died during the night in Norwalk hospital of a fractured skull, suffered in a fall down the cellar stairs in his home here.

He was engaged in the wholesale furniture business.

The body will be taken to Rockford.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Joseph Raggio, who likes to be called "Baby Face Joe," squeezed out of his front door and voted today for the first time in 15 years. He weighs 667 pounds and measures 6 feet 6 inches in circumference. He said he voted the straight democratic ticket.

Murrayville visitors in the city yesterday included Robert Fanning.

Idabel, Okla., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Firemen were endangered and a church was damaged by rifle bullets today when a National Guard armory was destroyed by fire. Exploding ammunition kept fire fighters at a respectful distance while the building was reduced to ashes. Lieut. Herman Smith estimated the loss at $18,000.

John Kale was among visitors in the city yesterday from Woodson.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Geraldine Wordell, 48, wife of the superintendent of St. Luke's hospital, shot and killed herself today at her home.

She was found in a bedroom by two daughters, Geraldine, 22, and Dorothy, 21, who heard the shot. Another daughter, Charlene, 13, was at school. Charles Wordell, her husband, told police Sgt. Charles Redding. Mrs. Wordell had been in ill health.

Dr. Harry Mock, a physician at the hospital, said Mrs. Wordell undoubtedly shot herself in a "fit of insanity" brought on by worry over the illness of her mother, a patient at the hospital.

Woman Chokes to Death When Two Children Burn

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Miss Margaret E. Kelley, 65, of Sparland, Ill., was eating chicken today when friends apprised her of a fire in which Harry, 5, and John McKee, 4, were burned to death when their farm home near Sparland, was destroyed by fire.

She gave a gasp of surprise and swallowed a fragment of chicken bone. Miss Kelley died in St. Francis hospital while doctors attempted to remove the obstruction from her wind pipe.

Prof. Frank G. Dickinson of the University of Illinois, Victor Olander, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor, and Joel Hunter, former member of the national council on unemployment, followed Rausch before the committee.

Dickinson told the members employment was not an incurable risk. He praised the Wisconsin plan as explained by Rausch but said that better than that, he liked what he called the "Illinois plan." Under it, he said, employees would be required to compel employers to save money from their wages in a mutual employers' bank.

"That would be a safer investment than the federal government," he said.

Olander said the labor bloc was opposed to the individual reserve plan of insurance and in his brief speech gave complete endorsement to the bills now before the assembly.

Hunter read a telegram of endorsement of the principles of unemployment insurance, sent by the council of social workers.

Carrollton, Nov. 5.—A telegram received here from Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis, Washington, D. Last week the grant of $32,727 for a natural gas plant at Carrollton; $29,465 for the same purpose at White Hall and $31,098 at Roodhouse was announced.

These three programs will have to be submitted to a vote of the people for the authority to issue bonds for the different cities share of the cost. According to reports received from B. J. The Ladies' Aid Society met yesterday in the following places: Circle No. 1, Mrs. Alfred, leader, at her home; Circle No. 2, Mrs. Marcella Hansen, leader, at Mrs. Minnie Cummings home of North Main street; Circle No. 3, Mrs. Henry Beebe, leader, at the Beebe home, just west of the city.

Edward Bowls and Al Baldwin went to St. Louis Wednesday and attended the Lewis-Olin boxing bout.

So it happened that at about 2 o'clock that afternoon Jean Dunn got off a train at the junction city of Plainfield and met Eve Lewis, who was waiting on the platform. Eve led her to a roadster, parked beyond the station, and slipped behind the wheel. As Eve started the car, Jean turned to her anxiously.

"Have you—have you seen Sandy?" she asked.
"Sure," said Eve. "Where'd you think I've been?"
"How is he? Is he badly hurt?"
"Not so badly. Just a bullet through the shoulder."

"A bullet?"
Her voice was so startled, and her face, when Eve glanced over at her, was so suddenly white and shocked, that Eve bit her lip and fruitlessly wished she had not spoken.
"Why, yes," she said, somewhat uncertainly. "I thought you knew."

They drove on, with Jean huddled in her corner of the seat in a dismayed, bewildered silence. Once she asked, almost timidly, "Do you know what—what kind of an accident it was?" And Eve answered, "Honest, Jean, I don't. I didn't mean to startle you. Anyhow, don't worry—we'll be there pretty soon."

There was another silence—a rather long one. Once Jean asked if Eve's husband was with Sandy in Midlothian. Learning that he was, she asked, "Are they in business together?" "I've always wondered," Jean said, "how they got on."

FILE WILL OF PIKE COUNTY WOMAN IN SANGAMON COURT

Pittsfield, Ill., Nov. 5.—A will drawn in 1897 and awarding an $18,000 estate to Miss Ann E. Eachus of Los Angeles, formerly of Springfield, Ill., was on file in county court today as the latest step in the legal fight which followed the death in 1932 of Miss Carrie Mirfield, of Griggsville, Ill.

The will was filed yesterday by Attorney L. T. Graham, of Pittsfield, representing Miss Eachus.

Graham previously had sought the removal of Robert George, of Griggsville, as administrator of the estate. Mary E. Reeder, a niece, and other relatives contested Miss Mirfield's will which was made in 1931. The will provided that her entire estate go to Jeanette Vose, who had cared for her before her death.

The relatives' contest was allowed on the grounds that Miss Mirfield was of unsound mind and unduly influenced when she signed the will. Distribution of the estate to the general heirs was ordered at that time, but had not been effected.

According to testimony Mrs. Graham was struck as she started across the street in front of the Reynolds Mortuary to her home at 616 West State street. She stepped onto the pavement and was struck by Mr. Rimbeby's car, the impact of the machine inflicting internal injuries, and fractures of ribs on the left side and her left arm and leg. She was rushed to Our Saviour's hospital immediately following the accident, but was pronounced dead upon her arrival at that institution.

Rimbeby was the sole witness to the accident, although there were drivers of other automobiles nearby. Mr. Rimbeby told the jury he was driving on state street toward the east, at between 20 and 25 miles per hour. He did not see Mrs. Graham until just before she was hit, lights from another machine hindering his vision.

Did Not See Accident

C. R. Crawford, local taxi driver, was driving in the rear of the Rimbeby machine, but did not see his car strike the aged woman. The first knowledge he had of the accident was when Rimbeby stopped his car in front of Crawford's taxi and as he started across the Rimbeby machine he saw the body of a woman lying in the street. He stopped his car and Mrs. Graham was placed in the taxi by him and Rimbeby and was taken to the hospital.

Crawford said he was traveling between 20 and 25 miles an hour and that Rimbeby could not have been going much faster than that. Claude Jewsbury, who was approaching West State street on South Prairie street at the time of the accident, testified that Rimbeby must have been traveling at a moderate rate of speed or he would have noticed it.

It was Jewsbury's automobile lights shining from the south on Prairie street that hindered Rimbeby's vision the jury was told by Rimbeby. Jewsbury said he did not see the woman before she was hit, but heard the impact of the collision of the car with her body and later saw her lying in the street.

Jewsbury said Mrs. Graham evidently started across the street in front of the Reynolds' Mortuary. If she had started across the street from Prairie he would have seen her, he said.

Rimbeby said he was driving east on West State street about 6:40 o'clock in the evening. He noticed the Jewsbury car approaching from the south and the lights shining brightly. Mrs. Graham stepped onto the pavement directly into the path of his car, he said. He saw her when he was about ten feet from her but could not avoid striking her.

Stopped Machine

Rimbeby said Crawford stopped his machine and aided him in placing the injured woman in the car. He directed someone to call the hospital and summon a doctor. L. A. Cain assisted in placing the injured woman in the car. They took her to the hospital but Mrs. Graham was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Mrs. Graham was born in Jacksonville, July 21, 1859, the daughter of Thomas and Ellen Jewsbury. She was united in marriage with William Graham, who preceded her in death. She is survived by one son, Ralph of Washington and one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Gahlbeck of Chicago. She also leaves one granddaughter, Mrs. Hazel Goodin of Chicago. She was a sister-in-law of Frank Hagan of this city.

The jury which rendered the verdict at the inquest included Arthur W. Kelly, Charles Duff, Glen Yeck, R. G. Leavell, L. B. Wiant and William H. Scott. The verdict was death due to "internal injuries, fractured ribs, arm and leg on left side, caused by an intersection of Prairie and West State streets, at driveway to driveway of Reynolds' Mortuary, by O. W. Rimbeby. We exonerate the driver from all blame."

The body is at the Gillham Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.
